As you probably know, the barrier to entry for making electronic music is practically non-existent these days. That's why success can only come from you, not the plugins or DAW you use. While knowing how to use your tools is important, it's about the drive within that will take you to the next level.

CREATE The Right Environment In Your Mind And Success Will Follow...

Have you started on a song and not finished it? Many aspiring musicians dream about cranking new tracks out, but they don't finish their songs. The truth is this: Great producers hone their skills, they practice regularly, and they finish tracks. Not only do they make time to practice what they love, they also follow specific routines that help them focus and avoid getting distracted.

The simple fact is that by implementing certain "principles" into your musical life, you'll no doubt increase your productivity. By striving to live up to certain ideas, you can accomplish much more and progress quicker.

The producers who succeed with their music make moves and walk right through failure. Moreover, they know that creative spurts aren't a constant, so they adapt to creative "dry spells".
